PICTURE BRIDES FOR NORTH-WEST

Twenty Girls Selected from Door of Hope

PEIPING EXPERIMENT IN COLONIZATION

Peking, June 30.

Twenty "picture brides" will leave for Paotouchen by the Peiping-Suiyuan railway to-morrow morning en route to Wuyuan to marry twenty of the love-lorn Chinese settlers who are engaged in colonization work there under the auspices of the North-west Colonization Association. These were selected by Mr. Tuan Cheng-wu, president of the Association, and his wife, from among inmates of the local Chiu Chi Yuan or Door of Hope. They will escort the party to-morrow to Wuyuan and will later act as match-makers at the wedding ceremony.

The brides were guests of honour at a farewell reception given by Mr. Lei Tzu-shang, director of the Bureau of Social Welfare, yesterday afternoon. In a brief address Mr. Lei said that the forthcoming trip possessed a deep significance. They were going, he said, not only to help the country in developing a frontier province but also to found homes for themselves. Mr. Lei expressed the hope that they would be able to put up with the hardships of frontier life and fulfil the expectations of Mr. Tuan.

All Young

The brides will each be presented with a wedding dress by Mrs. Chin Teh-chun, Mrs. Lei-shang and Mrs. Tuan. All the girls are under 25 years of age but their prospective husbands are much older, one of them being 55 years of age.

This is the second time that "picture brides" have been selected in Peiping for settlers in the Wuyuan region. Last year ten brides married men chosen for them by Mr. and Mrs. Tuan. According to Mr. Tuan the experiment is a great success, all the ten women being happy in their married life and taking their part in colonization work.—Reuter.

Means to Free Currency Ties and Relieve World Trade

Berlin, July 1.

The International Chamber of Congress to-day heard the British delegate, Mr. Arthur R. Guiness, declare that a notable step in the solution of the present economic difficulties would be achieved if the United States and Britain were to grant the German Reichsbank a gold credit or loan large enough to enable Germany to remove her currency control measures and thereby attain monetary and commercial freedom. This, he declared, would remove many obstacles preventing free international exchange of goods. He also agreed that a number of political questions would have to be settled first but believed most of these could be solved by means of conferences and through diplomatic channels.—Trans-Ocean.

The British Consul at Bordeaux may board the Habana to verify the facts and men of military age will be sent back.
